

ASEE Presents: Master Class On Effective Teaching

ASEE Presents: Master Class on Effective Teaching

The Master Class on Effective Teaching will provide K-12 and university-level STEM instructors with a common framework, terminology, and practical exercises to develop their teaching in STEM on a soundly neuroscientific basis.

This course will take place in three, four-hour-long sessions over three days, conducted by Barbara Oakley, PhD, co-teacher of Coursera–UC San Diego's Learning How to Learn, the world's most popular MOOC, with contributions from Beth Rogowsky, EdD, and Krzysztof (Chris) Kobus, PhD. Scroll for dates and details.

Type: Instructor-Led Course

Delivery Method: Live Online

Level: Foundational, Intermediate

Duration: 12 hours

Credits: 12 PDH

Register! (<https://www.asee.org/public/conferences/241/registration>)

Dates & Times

January 6, 7, and 8, 2021
12:00 PM – 4:00 PM, ET

Pricing

ASEE Professional Members: $99*

ASEE P-12/Student Members: $49*

Non-members: $149*

*Special pricing in conjunction with the release of Barbara Oakley's new book

Uncommon Sense Teaching. Pre-order your copy today

(<http://bit.ly/UncommonSenseTeaching>)!

+ Details

+ Learning Outcomes

+ Outline

+ Intended Audience

+ Facilitators

+ Additional Information

+ Contact Us

in

(<https://www.linkedin.com/company/american-> society-

for-

f t engineering-

(<https://www.facebook.com/ASEEEDQ/>)